Hector: Cat About Town
Notorious Gossip

"Have you done your share toward making life more cheerful for anybody?" asked the genially serious person.

"I have. I gave a crowd of people the time of their lives this morning. My hat blew off and I chased it two blocks."

The doctor was dismissing his maid, and told her: "I'm sorry, Jane—but I can only truthfully say in your reference that you are not at all fond of work!"

"Well, sir," Jane requested hopefully, "do you think you could find a Latin name for it?"

"What do you mean by throwing out a lot of women's votes?" demanded the woman watcher at the polls.

"We haven't thrown out a single vote," answered the official. "What we did was to throw out a recipe for sponge cake, two soap coupons, and three love letters."

A retired Lancashire mill hand decided to try to get a seat on the directorate of his local co-operative society, so he proceeded to do a little canvassing. "Do you think your husband will support me?" he inquired of one lady.

"Well," she answered, doubtfully, "if he does it'll be summat he hasn't done for me this last ten years!"

The cinema was crowded. One hapless man, missed by the usher, drifted deliriously looking for a place. Eagerly he peered through the half-darkness.

Then he sighed with relief. He had found one—and yet—He bent over toward the vacant chair, touched the shoulder of the man sitting on the other side, and whispered, "Is this seat reserved?"

"Yes, I think it must be," was the reply: "it hasn't said a single word."

"Do you recognize this fountain pen?" asked the judge.

"Surely, Your Honour," said the defendant.

"Ah, at last we are getting somewhere!"

"That's the same one you have been showing me every day for a week. Your Honour."

SUDDEN DEATH OF KONDYLIS

Allegations Of Poisoning

Athens, Feb. 1.

The body of General Kondylis, who died of heart failure yesterday, will lie in state in the cathedral of Athens before the funeral, which will take place in the presence of the leading politicians and probably also the King himself.

The death of the General, which some quarters state, was not from natural causes but due to poisoning, came at a most inopportune moment, since it will make the already existing difficult situation even more complicated.

That poison was the cause of General Kondylis' death is rumored so persistently that the courts have ordered a post mortem examination.

A few hours before his death General Kondylis was the guest of some political friends, and he seemed in excellent health and spirits. Some time later he went to the bathroom, where he suddenly dropped lifeless to the floor. The hastily summoned doctor could only confirm his death.

The General was unmarried, but left three sisters, who in the course of yesterday received many messages of condolence from prominent personages as well as from the Diplomatic Corps.

TREASON TRIAL AT KOVNO

Prisoners Appeal For Clemency

Kovno, Feb. 1.

All Memellanders still servit at sentences imposed in the notorious treason trial in Kovno in March 1935, when from over 80 persons charged four were sentenced to death and many to long prison terms on built-up charges, have appealed to the President of the Lithuanian Republic for clemency on the occasion of the Lithuanian Day of Independence, which will be celebrated on February 6.

Referring to Paragraph 52 of the Lithuanian Constitution, the prisoners request that their sentences be remitted, their confiscated property returned and their civil rights restored.

The former political leaders in Memelland, Dr. Neumann and Baron von Sass, as well as the two others who had been sentenced to death, had their sentences changed to imprisonment for life, and are interned in the Kovno prison, while the others are serving their terms in another town.

At the time of the trial it was admitted by all neutral observers that the verdict had been based on wholly unsubstantiated charges.

FASTER AIR MAILS

Singapore-Australia Service

Sydney, Feb. 1.

Mr. A. Parkhill, Federal Minister of Defence, announced yesterday that the Federal Government is duplicating the Singapore to Australia service within the next few months. It is understood that larger and faster land planes will be used. Machines capable of 180 to 200 miles an hour are contemplated.

Referring to the rejection of the British proposal, Mr. Parkhill expressed the opinion that the Commonwealth was the best judge of what was best for Australia. The problem of a flat rate for air mail was not the most important aspect for Australia. The control of the Darwin-Singapore route, the future of aviation in Australia and the relation of both these matters to Australia's defence were much more important to the Commonwealth.

WETHERED'S FIGHT

To Win President's Putter

(BY E. M. WELLINGS)

London, Jan. 13.
Roger Wethered, amateur champion in 1923, again won the President's Putter of the Oxford and Cambridge Golf Society here today, and thus equalled Sir Ernest Holderness's record of five victories.

Wethered beat Major W. H. H. Aitken in a grand fighting final by 2 and 1. Aitken, relied much on his mighty hitting, but to-day this failed him.

His wooden shots carried him into much trouble, but the found new strength in the brilliance of his pitching and putting, and put up a great fight against a steadier opponent.

Wethered's iron play and short game were as immaculate as ever, yet so sternly did Aitken battle that he was often in danger.

A deplorable start—a trail of nines—put Aitken 2 down, but he immediately showed courage by lofting a styler to win the fourth 13. With another 3 at the sixth and a glorious 4 at the 800 yards seventh, he became 1 up.

After Wethered had returned to the lead at the tenth, Aitken again countered in the most daring fashion.

Wonder recovery snots with his niblick won him the next two holes. Few would have attempted his strokes at the tenth. His ball lay buried, almost invisible in the rough, but his slashing niblick blow sent it fully 160 yards to the back of the green.

But nobly as he fought, Wethered's greater steadiness had to gain its reward.

Finally, undeterred by this succession of bold thrusts, Wethered put down a putt of four yards at the seventeenth and won through with a score of 1 over 4's.

Two and one were also the margin in both the morning semi-finals. Wethered, magnificent in his recovering and putting, beat Leonard Crawley, who failed to make full use of his magnificent long game, and Aitken were down some very stout resistance by J. H. H. Micklam, who was in the Oxford side only two years ago.

SARRAUT CABINET VICTORY

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Paris, Jan. 31.
The Sarraut Cabinet won a notable victory on its first appearance in the Chamber, when after a long, uneventful debate the House gave a vote of confidence by an overwhelming majority.

The counting of the votes took especially long, since the opposites had handed in more than 1000 blanks to obstruct the division.

At the close of the debate, Sarraut had made another impassioned appeal for political unity, pointing to the example set by England, where, so he stressed, all parties are standing together at this time of important foreign political developments, especially in the Far East.

The King's intention, it is understood, is to leave the Demertzis Cabinet in office till the assembly of Parliament in March. The first week of the Parliament's life will then give a definite indication of the distribution of forces, among the parties, and this will enable the King to entrust other politicians with the formation of the new Cabinet if this appears necessary.

DEATH AT SEA OF DR. MOHR

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Hamburg, Jan. 31.
The news of the death on the high seas of the Secretary of the "Far Eastern Association of Hamburg and Bremen," Dr. F. W. Mohr, is causing sincere regrets in export circles here. Dr. Mohr, who was returning from a visit to the Far East, when he succumbed to heart-failure shortly before the vessel reached Singapore, was generally recognised as an authority on Far Eastern affairs, and had many friends in China and Japan.

During the World War he had taken part in the defence of Tsingtau. After the War he was appointed Secretary General of the Far East Association, which, under his direction became the leading Organisation of the Hanseatic export and shipping firms trading to the Far East.

Dr. F. W. Mohr attained the age of 51.

TRAFFIC RESTRICTION BY POLAND

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Berlin, Jan. 31.
The Polish Ministry of Traffic, so the semi-official German News Agency announces, has informed the German State railways, that in consequence of non-payment of sums due to Poland for traffic to and from Germany and East Prussia and Danzig, this traffic must be considerably restricted from February 7th. This step, so the announcement states, has been caused by the difficulties arising as to the transfer of the amount owed to Poland by the German State Railway. Negotiations are now in progress between the German and Polish Government, to find a way to overcome these difficulties.

HEAVY RAINS IN THE FIGHTING AREA

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Addis Ababa, Jan. 31.
Haile Selassie sent three of his Ministers to the South Front, in order to ascertain the exact position, the Minister having already left the Capital by Plane.

The Emperor is still at Dessie, where he intends to stay and await the outcome of the present operations on the North Front, until he returns to the Capital.

Violent rainstorms swept over the Capital on Thursday evening, so that traffic was in many places stopped, and houses, both native and foreign suffered serious damages.

Heavy rains are also reported from the North Front, where small brooks have in the space of an hour, become roaring torrents. But nevertheless the Abyssinian Patrols are giving the Italians no rest day or night. The latter are reported to be building trenches in a modern way, in order to prevent the Abyssinian raiding parties to penetrate behind their lines.

ITALY'S ART BAN LIFTED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

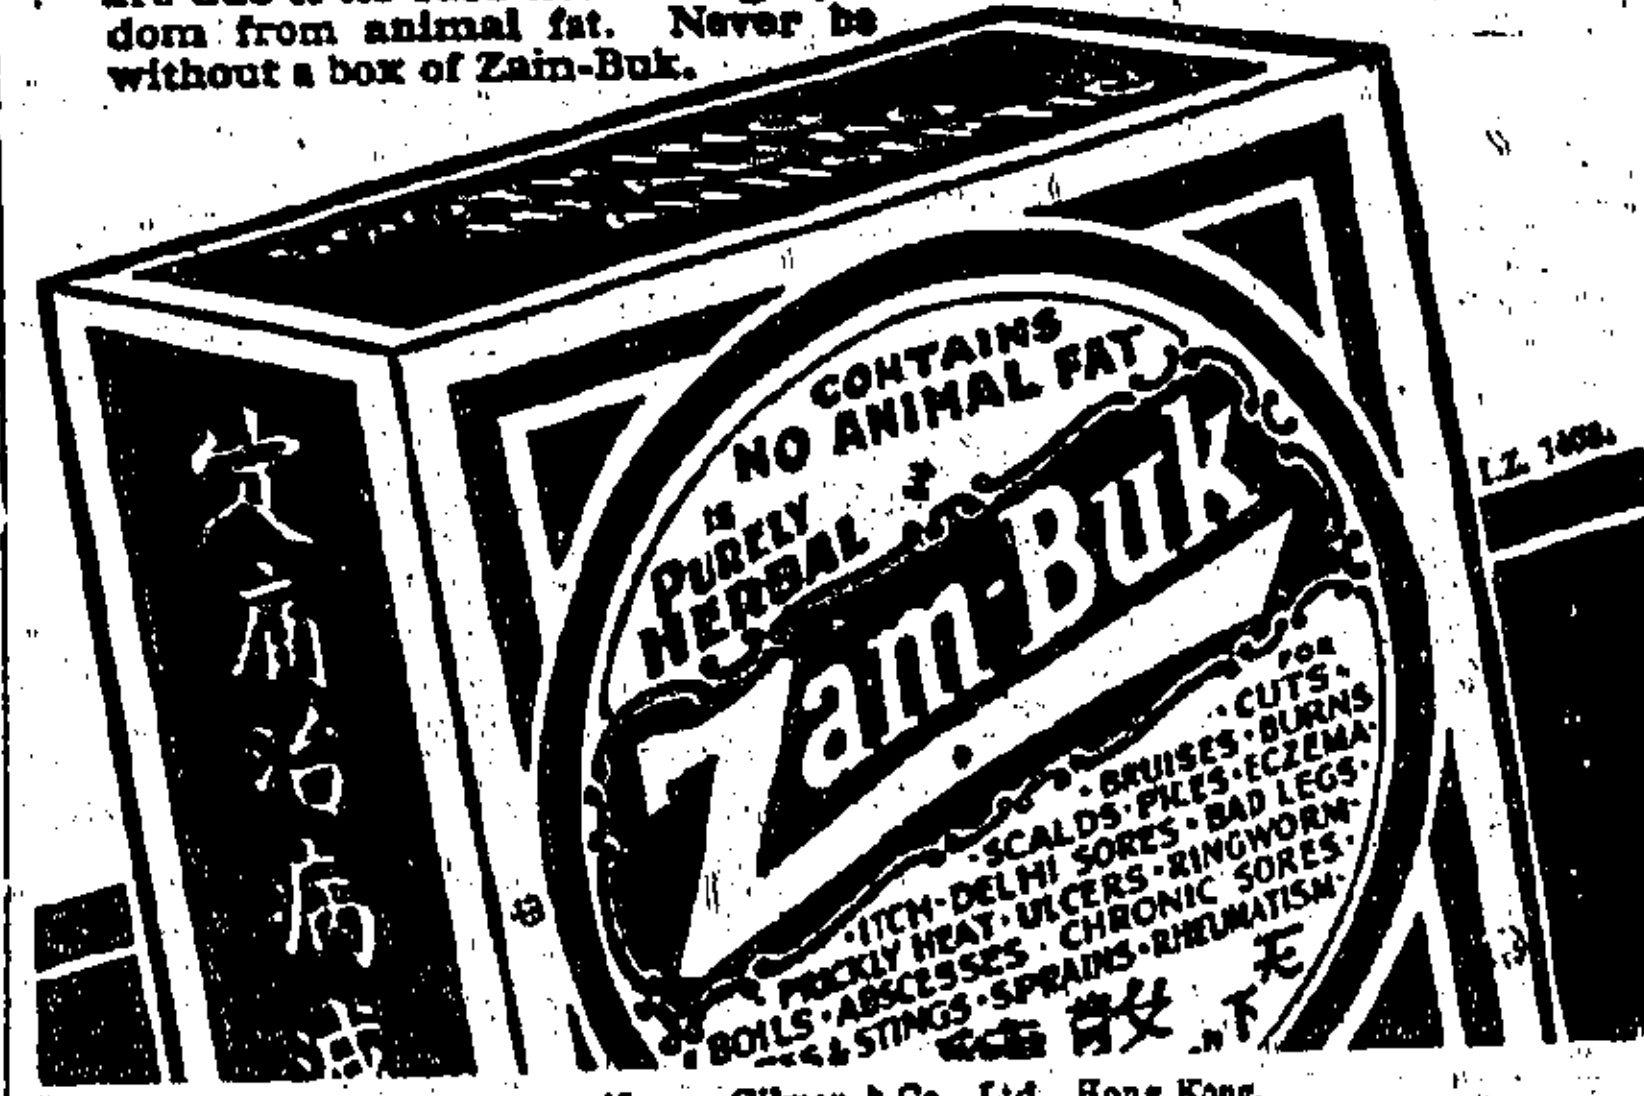

Rome, Jan. 31.
The decree of last November, by which the Italian Government extended the counter sanctions to the realm of art, has been rescinded by order of Signor Mussolini. In justifying the repeal, it is stated that the measures were taken last November, at a moment when it had to be assumed that the outside world had forgotten Italy's contribution to civilisation. Since then the Government had received many communications from all centres of culture which showed the universal respect for Italy's cultural achievements.

WALES DEFEAT SCOTLAND

Play On Soft Ground

Edinburgh, Feb. 1.
In misty weather following early morning rain which made the ground very soft, Wales beat Scotland by 13 points to 3 in the International Rugby match at Twickenham before a crowd of 50,000 spectators.

The Scottish forwards were much better in the scrums, but Welsh players were very persistent in their attacks, Woolley scoring the first try after 15 minutes, which Jenkins failed to convert.

Following a series of sharp thrusts by the Scottish three-quarters, Davey broke through to score a try which Jenkins improved upon, giving Wales a bad of 8 points to nil at the interval.

Scotland registered their only points when Dick secured from a line-out and sent Murray over for a try which Fyfe failed to convert.

The Scottish team were very lively right up to the finish, but the Welsh defence was sound under the storming attacks of the opposing forwards.

In a final rally before the end the Welsh team reached Scotland's 22-yard line, from which point Jones burst through for a try which Jenkins converted, this final score giving Wales victory by 13 points to 3.

SOUTH AFRICAN BOY GOLFER

London, Jan. 6.
A. D. Locke, the South African boy golfer, who is shortly leaving for Britain, has won the Transvaal Amateur Championship by defeating J. S. Wilkins by 13 and 11 in the final. In the third round Locke beat J. W. Verwey, who has been runner-up in the South African Open Championship for the last two years.

Locke now holds the South African Open and Amateur titles and the Transvaal Championship.

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE SUGGESTION

Oslo, Feb. 1.
The International Olympic Committee, in a letter addressed to the Committee of the Norwegian Storting, which is charged with the distribution of the Nobel Peace Prizes, suggests that the next Nobel Peace Prize should be given to the founder of the modern Olympic Games, Baron Pierre de Coubertin.

The Olympic Games, which furnish the forum of the world with the opportunity of meeting in peaceful sporting combat instead of

BRADMAN MAKES NEW RECORD

Aussies Doing Well In S. Africa

London, Jan. 3.
It is pleasant for cricket enthusiasts that the newspapers should now be able to regale them with half a column or more describing achievements of unusual distinction in another hemisphere. They now learn how Bradman, who decided not to join the Australian Test team in South Africa, but to stay at home for a rest, found time to make a new record. Yesterday he made his fifth score of over three hundred in his relatively short life. Two of them were made against England, both at Leeds; the other three, including the last, were achieved in inter-state games in Australia. Beyond this he has made scores of over two hundred in successive matches for his new team, South Australia (having hitherto played for New South Wales), and we can imagine the local supporters saying to each other, "This new man—what's his name?"—Bradman, must have an average of 250 or so; he should be quite a useful acquisition when he settles down. Pontford, who with four scores of three hundred to his credit, is the runner-up for this record, is also not with the Test team in South Africa.

S. AFRICAN TESTS

Yet without their two famous batsmen the Australians are doing well enough. The first Test match was won, and to have themselves from defeat in the second match the South Africans, who were in the field, were forced to "appeal against the light" as their bats could not see well enough to hold their catches, the appeal, although legitimate, enough, was unavailing. The enthusiasts who read all this may well have occasion to reflect that if the South Africans could beat us in the Test rubber, last year and if the Australians without our Bradman or Pontford can beat them, either Australian cricket must be astonishingly good or English cricket, unusually bad. Our native pride will favour the first explanation.

Still feeling

"Very Weak?"

Gain New Strength—with Sanatogen

There is no quicker and surer way back to complete health than a regular course of Sanatogen—the tonic-food that is recommended in writing by over 25,000 physicians.

Decide to give Sanatogen a trial—you will be astonished at the rapid return of your vital forces.

Your blood, weak and diluted from fevers, will become rich and strong again. Every cell of your debilitated nerves will be revitalized and charged with fresh power of resistance.

Why not shorten the weary period of slow recovery?

Start taking Sanatogen to-day. You will soon feel stronger and happier again, for with Sanatogen you drink to new health and vitality.

"If any remedy deserves the widest appreciation, that remedy is Sanatogen. There is no preparation so powerful in restoring vitality nor one more suitable to convalescents."

Writes the well-known physician, Dr. Schramm, in the "Ceylon Independent."

ROYAL AIR FORCE

1st Wing Commander

From The Navy

London, Jan. 5

The R.A.F. promotion list dated January 1 contains the name of Squadron Leader Rupert St. A. Malleon, A.F.C. (Commander, R.N.), who is promoted to Wing Commander. This is the first occasion on which a naval officer attached to the R.A.F. for service as a pilot in the Fleet Air Arm has risen to the rank of wing commander.

Under the present constitution of the Fleet Air Arm, adopted in 1924, naval officers who volunteer to specialize as pilots take rank in the R.A.F. as flying officers. They are promoted in the R.A.F. on their merits as such, and under an agreement made in 1932, a few have gained promotion to squadron leader, among whom was Commander Malleon. It was also provided in 1932 that commanders, R.N., would be eligible for promotion to wing commander. R.A.F. after two years as commander. The promotion now made is the first under this rule. It comes at a moment when Commander Malleon has relinquished air force duty temporarily for a period of general naval service, as since January, 1935, he has been in command of the destroyer Active in the Mediterranean.

"Halt!" yelled the sergeant to a new squad of recruits. But one of them marched on.

"Here, Jones, what were you doing before you joined the army?" yelled the sergeant.

"A horse driver, sir," replied Jones.

When the squad was marching again the sergeant cried: "Squad, halt! Jones, whoa!"

"THE MAN TRAILER"

Heralded as the new possessor of the crown once worn by William S. Hart and later by Tom Mix the new popular exponent of outdoor action, Buck Jones, comes to the Alhambra Theatre to-morrow in the latest of his Columbia productions, "The Man Trailer."

Jones is cast as an outlaw from justice who leaves a gang of desperate renegades to become a marshal, fighting to maintain law and order in a hectic little town that is the center of a feverish gold rush. Thrills are said to develop in fast order when the gang of bandits swoop down to loot the town and Buck rides to stage a one-man battle against them.

As the instigator for Buck's more romantic moments there is little Cecilia Parker, and as the villainous leader of the outlaw

"LES MISERABLES"

All the powerful drama of Victor Hugo's great classic sweep across the screen of the King's Theatre as Darryl Zanuck's magnificent 20th Century production of "Les Miserables" unravels before a huge audience, held spell-bound by this thrilling and timeless story of a hunted man.

Freddie March is at his best as the hero, Jean Valjean, the fresh, honest country youth, who stole a loaf of bread because he was starving and for this crime was brutalized by five years in the gaols of a French prison ship and found his whole life shadowed by the law. As the fanatical detective, Javert, who hounds him from pillar to post, Charles Laughton offers an entirely new and great characterization, and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, the distinguished English stage and screen star, is brilliant as the benevolent Bishop Bienvenut.

Released from the prison ship as Cosette, Valjean's ward, played by Rochelle Hudson, and Marius, a young revolutionary, played by John Beal, Frances Drake, as Eponine, a co-worker of Marius; Florence Eldridge, who is Mrs. Fantine, and Jessie Ralph and little Marilynne Knowlden are also prominent in the splendid cast.

The production has been flawlessly directed by Richard Boleslawski from a script by W. P. Lipscomb. The settings and costumes are magnificent and the production, released through United Artists, emerges not only as stirring entertainment and a triumph for director, 20th Century, the stars and everyone connected with it but as one of the really great pictures of all time.

gung there is Arthur Vinton, late of the Broadway stage, who has become one of Hollywood's favorite heavies since his screen debut a few months ago.

"The Man Trailer" was written and directed by Lambert Hillyer, noted action specialist.

OLD MAN RHYTHM

At The Queen's

Unscrupulous temptresses of film and fiction are usually paid well to call off their charms by the parents of enamoured young men. Not so in RKO-Radio's "Old Man Rhythm" now showing at the Queen's Theatre, with Charles (Buddy) Rogers, as the enamoured freshman. This romantic film musical presents an entirely modern method of outwitting alluring gold diggers.

When John Roberts, successful and resourceful manufacturer, discovers that his son's scholastic standing at college is doing a nose dive because he can't tear himself away from Marian Beecher long enough to attend classes, he doesn't open up his check book to buy off the mercenary miss. He opens a sly attack on the designing young miss with a few romantic clichés of his own. He closes his desk and enrolls as a freshman to battle her on her own collegiate territory.

The resulting conflict of wits run to a novel climax over unexplored comedy territory. Its humour and high-speed story reinforced by six catchy songs hits "Old Man Rhythm" marks the return of "Buddy" Rogers to the screen.

In the cast are Barbara Kent, also making her return to the films, Grace Bradley, George Bar- bier, Dave Chasen, Betty Grable and twelve youthful entertainers who one and all delights in a film packed with fun, laughter, gaiety, songs and dances. The picture is delightful in all respects.

MAN ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE

With W. C. Fields, kingpin comedian as its star, "Man On The Flying Trapeze," opening to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre can be chalked up as one more laugh fest in Field's long and recent list of screen successes. Bubbling over with his customary gags, his habitual mirth-provoking, rib-tickling pantomime, his pathetic, helpless blundering, prepare yourself for a roll in the aisles at this master comic's merry-making. In the role of a hen-pecked husband at home, a down-trodden clerk at the office, Fields assumes his characteristic, dominating one hilarious scene after another without a stop. His troubles begin immediately when at the point of retiring for the night, a complete and supreme bit of mirth in itself, burglars break in and Mr. Fields is forthwith dispatched by his nagging wife, Kathleen Howard, to the cellar to catch the culprits. Instead he indulges in a bit of applejack drinking with them, even become a member of a temporary and hastily improvised quartet. He lands in jail, and the thieves go free. His daughter, Mary Brian, rescues him. From then on, things become a riot of fun!

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Week-End Shoot

POOR WEATHER CONDITIONS

Owing to the naval range at Stonecutters being required by the Royal Navy on Saturday afternoon, it was found necessary for the week-end shoot of the Hong Kong Rifle Association to be postponed until yesterday morning, when an unexpectedly large number of members attended.

Weather conditions were far from ideal, for the shooting commenced in rain, with the result that the light was poor, while many found that the wind, varying in direction from time to time, was anything but easy to cope with. At 600 yards the haze which is so often met with on this particular range was much in evidence, and resulted in many scores, which up till then had been good being completely spoiled, as regards the aggregate.

We are asked to state that so many applications for individual full membership have been received during the past week, that no more can be entertained at the old rates of subscriptions. All applications received as from to-day, will therefore be regarded as at the new rates, which in the case of past and present members of the Services, are exactly double those previously obtained.

We are also asked to make it known that the issue of the Association's "Bulletin" for the current month is being distributed to all full members to-day.

The leading scores made at the shoot yesterday, held under the usual King's 1st stage conditions, were as follows:—

"HI GAUCHO"

"Hi Gauchito" starring vehicle at the Alhambra Theatre began its initial run yesterday to crowded houses. The picture depicts the accidental meeting of the hero (John Carroll) a gauchito and Steffi Duna, the daughter of rich Donna Vicenta (Ann Codee) and their is a case of love at first sight. Fuel is further added to the fire when they meet at a cafe and it was not until the finish of a rapturous tango that they discover that they are the children of two bitter enemies. A love triangle is formed when the villain (Rod La Rocque) enters the scene under an assumed name.

The picture is a mighty success to "Under a Pampas Moon," which was screened locally a short while ago.

The feature is preceded by a novelty, a cartoon in technicolour and a comedy entitled "The Newly Reweds."

For two hours of clean and humorous entertainment a visit to this theatre is strongly recommended.—"Redincom."

"IT'S IN THE AIR"

Una Merkel's entire "real" life changed when she was assigned her latest screen role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new drama, "It's In The Air," to be seen on Wednesday at the King's Theatre.

She forms a new film team with Jack Benny and has a chance, for the first time, to show her ability as a dramatic actress in the production.

Una Merkel's characterization is also a new type. She plays the role of a tennis professional, who marries Benny and later leaves him.

The radio comedian, who recently finished his starring role in "Broadway Melody of 1936," portrays a Broadway "chick" who possesses a million and one "rackets." In spite of his shady dealings, luck makes him a national hero.

Ter Healy, Nat Pendleton, Mary Carlisle, Harvey Stephens and Grant Mitchell are also included in the cast of the new picture.

BASTIN SAVES THE ARSENAL

And Bristol Goalkeeper Deserves a Medal

London, Jan. 13.

It took Arsenal sixty-five minutes to break down the stubborn, never-yield-an-inch resistance of Bristol Rovers. From that point the game was amazingly transformed, and Arsenal's five goals were scored in fourteen minutes.

The Rovers obtained a goal in the first half and were playing so well that it looked as if Arsenal would have the greatest difficulty in forcing more than a draw. Then the Bristol defence, which had served them so well, cracked under the strain, but they deserve the greatest praise for their fine display.

Arsenal's improvement coincided with a forward shuffle—the line had been hopeless before Bastin took Davidson's place at inside left.

Davidson's more delicate touches had broken down under the quick relentless Bristol tackling. Bastin was different. His speed and devastating swerving dribbles put Arsenal on the goalward path.

No praise is too high for Bastin. Although he missed a penalty before the Rovers had scored, he stoned a thousand times by pulling the match out of the fire.

ROVERS OUT OF LUCK

Bristol Rovers were fighting against bad luck at a critical stage of the match. On one occasion in the second half they had two men off the field at the same time.

Ellis, in goal, deserves a medal. Besides saving the penalty—a difficult shot, too—he stopped shot after shot in wonderful manner.

Pickering, Double and McLean were a fine defensive trio. Young, at half-back, and Houghton and Taylor also caught the eye.

Male and Haspwood had an unhappy day. They were caught out of position all too often.

CHAMPIONS RETAIN TENNIS TITLE

Grand Display By Miss Hancock

On Saturday the Colony's Mixed Doubles Lawn Tennis title was retained by L. Goldman and Miss R. Hancock when they defeated H. D. Runjahn and Mrs. Chui on the Chinese Recreation Club's courts. The score was 6-4, 7-5.

Miss Hancock played a very good game and was largely responsible for the victory. Her driving from the base line and her defence against the concentrated attack of H.D. was superb.

Goldman on the other hand, though effective with his ground shots and volleys, was none too confident with his overhead.

Of the losers, Mrs. Chui's lobbing was outstanding and time.

Crayton left wide open spaces by playing an exaggerated attacking game.

Houghton scored for Bristol Rovers, the ball hitting the post and going into the net. Bastin (2), Drake (2) and Bowden obtained Arsenal's goals.

The country vicar was giving the milkmaid a lift home in his car, and when he came to her house he set her down. The girl proceeded to thank him. "Oh, don't mention it," said the vicar. The girl blushed and then replied, "All right, mum's the word."

SUCCESSFUL KWANTI MEET

JOSEPHINE PAYS $257.20

Close Finishes Witnessed

Good racing was had at the Fanling Hunt and Race Club's meeting held at Kwanti yesterday afternoon when some very close finishes were witnessed.

The weather was eminently suited for racing and spills were few and far between although two occurred which were luckily of a minor character.

Attendance was moderate and punters had a successful day and it was left to Josephine to bring off the biggest surprise of the day when Mr. C. S. Archer piloted her home in "The Beefsteaks" Division A race to pay its four backers $257.20 each. Dividends on the whole were high, much better than the previous meeting. Honours were very evenly distributed.

"THE NEW SOUTH WALES CUP"

The first race on the card was the "New South Wales Cup" which was run over a course of about three miles in the country. The race attracted five starters and going was pretty good considering the rough course the ponies had to traverse. A strong breeze was blowing and the sun was trying its best to break through the clouds when the ponies got off to a good start. Lucy Gitters led the field followed by Black Magic and the favourite The Giraffe. Less than a mile of the distance had been run when Black Magic floundered and the rider, Lt.-Col. H. C. Alexander was unmounted. Lucy Gitters continued leading the field and the favourite Giraffe had to make a detour so that she had to drop back. Flummery came up on the stretch and with Giraffe and Lucy Gitters ran a grand race to the finish. It was however due to the fine horsemanship on the part of Mr. Devoeux that Flummery was able to beat the field at the finish to pay its 18 backers $40 apiece. Giraffe was second.

THE SHEUNG SHUI STEEPLECHASE

Diogenes did not fall this time in the 1 1/2 miles Steeplechase. Burgomaster led a field of 5 entries and at the first time of the "dip" Soldier of Italy took the lead with Diogenes third. First round in saw the battle for supremacy between Soldier of Italy and Burgomaster intensified. Places changed alternately until about the last quarter mile when Diogenes came up strongly in front to challenge Soldier of Italy for the premier position. Diogenes eventually winning with four lengths to spare.

THE BEEFSTEAKS—DIVISION B

Another surprise was created in the second of the three country races when R.T.P. (Mr. D. Baker Carr) romped home an easy winner after snatching the lead from Glenshee after the first mile. Herga with Mr. C. L. Gregory on floundered and was unmounted. Glenshee led for the first half mile and it was not until after half the distance was over that R.T.P. assumed the lead and back came home an easy winner. Glenshee was unplaced with Racing Heart and The Snipe taking up the second and third positions respectively.

"THE GRAND MILITARY H'CAP AND SASSOON CUP"

A good dividend was paid by Gadwall when Mr. Parker-Jervis brought her home to beat the favourite Classic Hall to pay $45. Iron Cross took the lead followed by Ike and Classic Hall. It was a struggle between Ike and Iron Cross for the greater part of the race until close to the last quarter when Gadwall unexpectedly shot forward to win by a short head from Ike with the same distance separating Ike from Classic Hall.

THE BEEFSTEAKS—DIVISION A

The highest dividend of the day—$257.20 was paid on Josephine in the last of the three country races when only four punters were successful in backing it. Punch, Daylight Eve, Jock Scott alternately changed positions for the first place. Several times either one or more ponies would go off on the wrong track. On the stretch Jock Scott, No Fear and Josephine were going neck to neck until Josephine easily snatched the victory with Jock Scott and No Fear trailing behind.

"THE DIANA CUP"

The last race the Ladies' 1 mile sprint attracted the largest field of the day—14 starters. Estover led the field closely pursued by Don and The Loafer. Estover was never seriously challenged and romped home an easy winner to pay $330 for a win. Don and The Loafer were second and third respectively.

EXTRACTS FROM GAZETTE

Appointments Etc.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed, provisionally and subject to His Majesty's pleasure, the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, to be an Unofficial Member of the Legislative Council for a further period of four years.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed Dr. W. B. A. Moore, provisionally and subject to His Majesty's pleasure temporarily to be a Member of the Legislative Council during the absence from the Colony of the Hon. Dr. R. A. Wellington.

It is notified that Mr. V. C. Branson, M.C., A.R.C.S., D.I.C., B.Sc., F.I.C., resumed duty as Government Analyst on January 23.

FLAG DAYS

Permits Must Be Obtained

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Summary Offences Ordinance, 1932.

This Ordinance adds a new paragraph to Section 3 of Ordinance No. 40 of 1932, making it a summary offence to organise, equip or take part in any collection of money or the sale of badges for any charitable or benevolent purpose in any public place without the permission in writing of the Inspector General of Police or in contravention of any condition that may have been attached to any such permission.

The increase in the number of "flag days" undertaken by various charitable organisations has made some such legislation necessary.

ARMY PROPERTY

Trespassers Not Allowed

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Stonecutters Island Ordinance, 1935.

This Ordinance amends the Stonecutters Island Ordinance with the object generally of giving to the Naval Authorities the same powers as to the exclusion of trespassers as those already possessed by the Military Authorities. This is considered necessary as, there are a naval rifle range, a naval wireless station and other naval establishments on the island.

The amendment of the principal Ordinance to effect this object has been suggested by the local naval authorities and concurred in by the local authorities.

This Ordinance also adds the Colonial Secretary to the list of persons who may grant landing orders under section 3 (1) of the principal Ordinance.

Mr. G. P. Ferguson's Jock Scott, 175 lbs. (Mr. J. R. Johnson) 2

Mrs. Stanton's No Fear, 175 lbs. (Mr. W. H. S. Davis) 3

CORRESPONDENCE

Sir,
Your correspondent "Confused student-at-law" has rendered a public service by calling the attention of the Government to the necessity of having a new edition of the Hong Kong Ordinances prepared and published with delay.

I agree with the student when he says that he had been confused by the numerous repeals and amendments made from time to time since the last edition was completed.

As only one instance of the difficulty in ascertaining the law applicable or inapplicable to any particular case, I need only cite The Dangerous Drugs Ordinance.

This Ordinance was first introduced and passed in 1923 and is contained in the 1924 edition.

In 1928, The Dangerous Drugs "Amendment" Ordinance was passed, and it contained a clause that this Ordinance (1928) should not come into operation until such date as the Governor should appoint by proclamation.

Subject to correction, so far as I have been able to ascertain, from 1928 till September 1935 no such proclamation was ever issued, although the 1928 Ordinance had in effect been acted upon by the Magistrates and numerous convictions have been made under the said Ordinance.

If no proclamation had been issued in view of the provisions of the Interpretation Ordinance, all convictions under the 1928 Drugs Ordinance, in so far as they were incorporated from the 1935 Act, would be good in law, but all convictions under any of the new sections of the 1928 Ordinance would obviously be bad because the proclamation had not been issued by the Governor.

The new Drugs Ordinance of 1935 contains the same provision with regard to the proclamation, and I have not bothered myself for the moment to find out whether this proclamation has, or has not been since issued.

The above, of course, is one of the many instances of the difficulty in which any person might find himself when he should be called upon to refer to our local laws.

If a new edition is directed to be prepared, I should suggest that at least three local practising lawyers, including the Attorney-General, should be appointed as a Committee to co-operate with the Editor in revising the Ordinances as a whole, with power to remove from the Statute Book all obsolete and unnecessary Ordinances and to shorten considerably the numerous "Regulations" which have been passed.

As Sir Henry Pollock rightly pointed out in the Legislative Council, we are having far too many Regulations, and, in my opinion, half of them are absolutely unnecessary or could be considerably curtailed.

Whenever it is my unpleasant duty to refer to the Regulations, I generally find that it makes "my knotted" and combined locks part, and each particular hair stand on end like quills upon the fretful porpoise."

Yours etc., LEX.

STREET SLEEPERS

Entertainment For A Good Cause

The performances in aid of the Street Sleepers' Shelter Society's work which have been arranged to take place in the Star Theatre, Kowloon, on Wednesday next, promise to be not only a means of raising additional funds for a good cause, but also an opportunity for enjoyable entertainment.

Following up the generosity of the Star Theatre management, several film companies have risen to the occasion and as a result of their combined effort, in providing the pictures free of charge, a different programme is possible for each of the four performances.

GOOD PICTURES

The 2.30 p.m. show will be sponsored by the Columbia Films of China, who will provide a varied programme especially suitable for children. The Paramount Films of China will be responsible for the 5.20 p.m. performance, the main picture being "Here's My Heart," starring Bing Crosby. International Films are taking care of the 7.20 p.m. show, the leading feature being "Jack's the Boy," with Jack Hulbert and Cicely Courtneidge as the stars. The 9.20 p.m. programme will be furnished by Warner Bros. First National Pictures Inc., and the principal attraction will be "Happiness Ahead," starring Dick Powell and Josephine Hutchinson.

To suit the convenience of residents on the Hong Kong side, the Anderson Music Co., Ltd., are assisting in the booking, and in keeping with the general co-operative spirit, are kindly foregoing any charge for their services.

OBITUARY

General's Son Passes

The death occurred shortly after 4 p.m. on Saturday, at the French Hospital, Causeway Bay, of Master Chan Ping, aged 9 years, the third son of the late General Chan King-ming, and Mrs. Chan King-ming of No. 25, Yuk Sau Street, Happy Valley.

The deceased, who was a student at the King Nam College, had been ill for three weeks, though he was not removed to the hospital till about two weeks ago. He was making excellent progress and every hope was entertained for his recovery, but he took a turn for the worse on Friday and, despite all that medical aid could do for him, passed away on Saturday.

He leaves his mother, five sisters and a brother to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place at the Roman Catholic Cemetery this afternoon.

DEATH

DENNYS.—On February 1, Henry Lardner Dennys aged 50 years.

The Funeral will pass the Monument at 5.15 p.m. to-day.

JAPANESE CONSTABLE SHOT DEAD

A very dastardly murder occurred last week when a Japanese Constable, a Mr. Tsunoda, was fatally shot just outside his residence, by some unknown person or persons. It transpired Mr. Tsunoda had just left his home to go to the Consulate some time after noon when without any warning whatsoever three shots were fired at him at close range. His body was at once taken to the Japanese Hospital and medical aid proved of no avail. News spread like 'speed-fire' amongst the Japanese community. The Chinese authorities were forthwith held responsible for the crime and they themselves arranged for a foreign doctor to examine the dead body and who undoubtedly found three bullet wounds. Up to now there are no developments, but the authorities have signified their willingness to track down the miscreants.

Soon after the shooting incident a Japanese light-cruiser, the "Izukumo," arrived on the scene and this provided much food for speculation. No landing of blue-jackets was attempted, thanks to the very prudent present Japanese Consul. The "Izukumo" has been relieved by her sister ship, "Yubari," and there are also the "Kuretake" and "Hayanae," destroyers, in port.

THE DAILY PRESS.

HONG KONG, FEBRUARY 3, 1936.

MANY INVENTIONS

Nearly one hundred patents per day have been applied for in Great Britain alone during the present year. If one were to try to compute the whole world's output of new inventions one's brain would reel. Mechanism, which is supposed to be a necessary outlet for man's "Divine discontent," appears to be leading him into a still more aggravating state of human discontent. The cleverest machine devised never satisfies us. We must always have something more slick, more fool-proof, more speedy—that is, less at the mercy of friction—than last year's "model."

Modern inventions do not supply us so much with novelties as with improvements on novelties already judged commonplace of existence. Television, already an accomplished fact, may well be the last real invention for many a long year to come, unless "death-rays" or "eternal-life" formulae be perfected more speedily than seems probable, or desirable. Nowadays inventors, like novelists, are vying with each other to produce "best sellers." Sometimes, for no very obvious reason, a new "gadget" attracts an enormous public. Occasionally, for quite demonstrable reasons, it attracts the attention of a highly select body of invention experts. A great fortune may result from the twist of a pin or the "set" of a curve surface. Just as in successful yacht-building it is often difficult to know where human artifice ends and pure accident takes a hand, so are most modern contrivances the combined result of mathematics, "brain-waves" and fortuitous circumstance. This may perhaps be said of all inventions since the world began, but whereas in former times one or two new ideas, like a telescope lens, or a machine to harness steam, changed all our human conceptions, we now accept a new invention as a humdrum incident in intellectual progress. There seems to be a limit to what intellectual ingenuity can accomplish, and our easy acceptance of astounding mechanical progress may well register a deeply seated contempt of its power to stifle spiritual aspiration. Someday we may throw on to the scrap-heap all those inventions which are merely "gadgets" and retain the very few which really make life less burdensome and more interesting.

SWATOW NEWS

C. N. Y. Celebrations

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Chinese New Year has come and gone, and the "old custom" celebrations have in no way been relaxed as before. For days the general public were doing their shopping and laying up stores for the holidays. Business was at a standstill for three days; the big department stores and small shops were likewise closed. All government departments remained open as usual, for they have long ago adhered to the foreign calendar. To all appearances everyone seemed to have enjoyed dual New Year holidays. The firing of crackers was somewhat restricted. I was given to understand. The women-folk and children were done up in their best—the former in alt dresses in spite of the restrictions governing the Modern Life Movement. Joyrides were the order of the day.

THE STUDENTS

Recently about a hundred students came up from Canton and were accorded a hearty welcome. Patriotic lectures were delivered everywhere, on consolation, no untoward incident had happened; parades and demonstrations are already a thing of the past, thanks to the awakened efforts of the authorities.

THE BRIDGE AND MAHJONG DRIVE

In aid of St. John Ambulance which took place at Headquarters on Thursday was a very cheerful event. We played our games in the lecture room upstairs, and when tea time came everybody trooped down to the club rooms where they were pitted with marvellous viands which, I hear, had all been given by generous friends.

Lady Southern was there with Mrs. Phillips, and two Chinese friends. Mrs. Doctor Moore had a table of bridge, and Mrs. McLay was with her attractive daughter who is just beginning to play the noble game. I noticed Mrs. Shannon looking very attractive as usual, and Mrs. Helberg, Mrs. Hodgson and Mrs. Raymond were among the many who had booked tables.

Miss Sander—the pretty niece of Mrs. Edgar Davidson—was busy selling sweets and being generally useful, ably assisted by Miss W...

—an equally pretty Chinese helper Mrs. Langley, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Paul, and another organiser looked very cheerful and busy, and when play finished soon after six. Lady Shenton gave away the prizes, and told us some interesting facts about St. John Ambulance work in the New Territories.

The Children's Cinema Show at the King's Theatre on Friday must have been a huge success—judging by the swarms of young things who were crowding into the vestibule that morning, and positively falling over each other in their frantic efforts to get their tickets. Pity the poor booking clerk, and he managed his seating through marvellously, assisted by the manager, Mr. Lalng, who helped the small people from outside the booking office.

It was very amusing listening to the comments of the rising generation during the performance. Of course they all loved Shirley Temple, who, I thought, was more adorable than ever in "Bright Eyes." Whenever she was off the set one heard such remarks as "Where is Shirley, Mummy?" "Why doesn't she come back?"

"The three Little Pigs" were a cracking success once more, and one small boy was heard to tell his Mother "he liked them much the best in the whole show because they were so pretty!" There is no doubt about it children do love the gay colours of Silly Symphonies.

THE CHILDREN'S CINEMA SHOW

The children's show which took place at the King's Theatre on Friday morning was a very great success, and St. John's committee desire to thank everybody concerned for their generous help and co-operation. First they would like to thank the management of the King's for loaning the Theatre for the performance, and for all the trouble and work involved.

And the bridegroom—Mr. Hans H. P. Melchers, of Shanghai.

Next we should like to thank the "Fox" and "United Artists" Film companies for loaning us the films which were so greatly appreciated by the young audience.

Thanks are also due to the "Daily Press" and the "South China Morning Post" for helping us with the advertising.

Lastly we wish to thank the general public for the generous way they supported our effort by bringing their children to the performance.—D. E. A.

WEDDING BELLS

Wedding bells enticed Miss Lella Croot from Hong Kong last week. She left on the President Coolidge for her marriage to Mr. Hans H. P. Melchers, Chief News Editor of the Transocean News Agency in Shanghai. The ceremony was arranged to take place last Saturday. Miss Croot, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Croot, of Petersfield, England, was a member of the staff of Jobson and Co. in Hong Kong and popular in social circles here.

EUROPE DRIFTING TOWARDS MOST DREADFUL WORLD WAR IN HISTORY

Il Duce Warns Against Oil Sanctions Fascist Council To Decide Future Policy

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Rome, February 1. Significance is attached here to the proceedings of the Grand Fascist Council that meets under the chairmanship of Signor Mussolini in the Palazzo Venezia on Saturday night at 10 o'clock to deliberate on the present situation that has arisen owing to the victories gained since the Council's last session, and to arrive at clear decisions as to Italy's future policy, in the face of threatening oil sanctions, clearly indicated by the extremely tense feeling prevailing for the last twenty-four hours, and the agitated pronouncements of the Italian press.

Signor Mussolini's paper, the "Popolo d'Italia" published a leading article, believed to be written by Il Duce himself, headed "Appeal to the Students of Europe" stating that Europe is slipping down the sanctions slope with ever increasing acceleration towards the most dreadful world war the world has ever known, which is inescapable if the oil sanctions are applied by the Anglo-French coalition.

The article caused a sensation in political circles here because this is the first time that an authoritative source has declared plainly that the application of oil sanctions would inevitably lead to a war.

At all events the Grand Fascist Council meets on Saturday night at the moment when tension throughout Italy is at its highest point.

Signor Mussolini will be present to report on the entire military situation and summarise on the economic position. The confiscation of the entire wool stocks for military purposes shows, clearly how great Italy's difficulties are.

Meanwhile reports from Malta state that the chiefs of the British and French Mediterranean Fleets under Admiral Fisher called to meet on board the Elizabeth while detachments of the French fleet under the Commander-in-Chief are due in Malta at any moment.

The Italian Ambassador in London, Signor Grandi who had a talk with Mr. Anthony Eden on Friday, is due in Rome on Saturday to attend the Grand Fascist Council.

WOOL SUPPLIES

Rome, Feb. 2.

The requisitioning of all the Italian wool supplies by the government for military purposes has apparently given rise to a misunderstanding, says a semi-official news agency in an announcement.

GENEVA COMMITTEE'S REPORT

Sanctions Difficulties

Geneva, Feb. 1.

The report by the Sanctions Conference committee of experts on the execution of sanctions measures was completed on Saturday. The committee examined the legislative measures in this connection taken by 52 countries participating in the sanctions, and came to the conclusion that it is only in South America that there are shortcomings of any importance.

Certain difficulties are also being met with in Spitzbergen as well as in the Spanish colonies in Morocco, particularly in the Tangier zone.

The committee decided to address a questionnaire to all the members of the Sanctions Conference concerning the state of their trade with Italy.

FOREIGN MINISTERS IN CONVERSATION

Anglo-Afghan Relations Discussed

London, Feb. 1.

Two of the youngest Foreign Ministers in the world met to-day. Mr. Eden Foreign Minister of Britain had a conversation with the Foreign Minister of Afghanistan regarding friendly relations between the two countries, and also relations with the Soviet.

The Afghan Foreign Minister who is thirty seven years of age and one year younger than Mr. Eden has been Foreign Minister since 1929.

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY IN GERMANY

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Feb. 1.

No more reliable measure of the industrial activity is known than the amount of electrical current consumed in manufacturing, while the domestic consumption rises, and falls in sympathy with the domestic power of the workers, that is to say with the degree of employment.

Official statistics just issued by 72 power works, accounting for 85 per cent. of the power generated in Germany shows that the 1934 production was 15.5 milliard kwh, and 1935 production 17.9 kwh, that is an increase of 29.4 per cent. showing an increase in the economy in coal reserves. The popularisation of electric in home life is shown by the phenomenal increase of electric cooking stoves, which ten years ago was practically unknown. To-day there are 400,000, while hundreds of new stoves, are being installed daily.

Cairo, Feb. 1.

As a result of the formation of a new Cabinet, and the reports current here, though still unconfirmed, that the Anglo-Egyptian negotiations will begin on February 15, quiet again prevails throughout all Egypt.

The universities and schools closed by the government owing to the unrest among the students, are expected to reopen next week.

Nahas Pasha, the Wafd leader who is entrusted with the conduct of the negotiations with the British Government, emphasised in a talk with pressmen that he is convinced the British Government is honestly determined to come to an understanding with Egypt.

EXHIBITS FROM CATHAY

Treasures For China Institute

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Frankfurt-on-Main, Feb. 2.

A shipment of Chinese exhibits for the China Institute here has now arrived after a journey lasting almost four months.

The new exhibits include the complete furniture for a five-roomed house, ornaments, sculpture, hand work, tools, agricultural implements which were collected last year on behalf of the Frankfurt City University by the Deputy Director of the China Institute, Lekta Yuan Ting, with the co-operation of the Chinese Ministry of Culture, and the proceeds of private donations.

The new home of the China Institute has been completely renovated and will provide a worthy home for the new treasures.

Before the exhibition will be placed on view to the public, it will be formally inaugurated by the Mayor, Dr. Krebs.

CHINESE OFFICIAL'S DISAPPEARANCE

Peiping, Feb. 2.

A rumour to the effect that Mr. Wu Hao-in, member of the Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs Bureau of the Peking Government, who recently went to meet Prince Teh on an important mission, was the victim of an unknown murderer somewhere near Changhai was circulated here. It was not possible to obtain confirmation in spite of enquiries made in different quarters.

It was pointed out here that Mr. Wu proceeded to Mongolia early in January and was present at the Changhai Conference on January 15. But nothing has been heard of him ever since.

Local authorities have already telegraphed to Mr. Pao Yuch-hing at Kalgan to make enquiries into the matter through the Chahar Provincial Government.

HEATED DEBATE AT GENEVA

Peru's Failure To Apply Sanctions

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Geneva, Feb. 1.

A somewhat acrimonious debate is stated to have taken place on Saturday in the course of the meeting of the Sanctions Conference's so-called Supervisory Committee of Experts. It is understood that the Peruvian delegate, Tudela, had been called to account, so to speak, by several of the other delegates for his Government's failure to apply the sanctions.

The Peruvian delegate explained that, as already announced by his Government, the sanctions would be put into force by the latest on February 20, and that the delay was due to the fact that the greater part of the Peruvian industry either was owned or was financially controlled by the Italians.

This caused the Rumanian delegate to remark that similar conditions were prevailing in other countries, but that the Rumanian Government had not nevertheless hesitated to apply the sanctions.

The debate ended with the Peruvian delegate promising that he would inform his Government concerning the committee's wishes for prompt action.

Diplomatic Conversations In Paris

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Feb. 1.

The important diplomatic conversations begun on Saturday between President Lebrun, Flandin and other French Ministers and King Carol, Titulescu and Litvinoff, have as their scope, it is confirmed in official quarters here, the re-examination of the situation in the Danubian basin in the light of the altered circumstances which have arisen through Italy's preoccupation with the Abyssinian conflict.

One of the principle subjects for discussion, it is stated, is the independence of Austria which hitherto looked to Italy for protection.

The question of providing support from another quarter is being discussed, and the report that the Soviet Union has been selected as the substitute for Italy in this role now appears to be confirmed.

It is said having declared with his conversations with King Carol of Rumania and Flandin his government's readiness to respond to any appeals for co-operation in the maintenance of the European balance of power and organising a system of collective security within the framework of the League of Nations.

One definite result of Saturday's conversations, it is semi-officially stated, is that the new discussions

ETHIOPIAN "VICTORIES" DENIED IN ROME

Ras Desta No Longer In Command

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Addis Ababa, February 1.

Reports from the Abyssinian headquarters state that the great battle which began on January 21 ended decisively on Friday night, the entire Blackshirt division "of October 28" having been annihilated. The Italians are said to have lost about 3,800 killed, and 4,000 wounded during the operations in the Tembien territory.

The Abyssinian claim to have captured 30 field guns, 175 machine guns, 2,653 rifles, and 18 tanks. The losses on the Abyssinian side are about 1,200 men, the heaviest toll being taken at the storming of three Italian fortified positions, now occupied by the Abyssinian sharpshooters, and the machine gun sections.

Other messages from the northern front, state that Italian armoured units were exceedingly active, bombing all the towns and settlements behind the lines, causing heavy losses among the Abyssinian population.

Reports from the southern front declare that troops sent to relieve Ras Desta, brought Italian forces to a standstill 45 miles northwest of Negelli, but skirmishing is still in progress.

STUDENT RIOTS IN PARIS

Jeze's Lectures Resented

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Feb. 1.

Despite extensive precautionary measures taken by the authorities at the first lecture held by Professor Jeze on Saturday since the re-opening of the Paris law school, this week again gave rise to riotous scenes by the nationalist students to whom the learned Professor has become obnoxious, owing to his activities as Abyssinia's legal advocate at the League of Nations.

Already early on Saturday morning, four flying squads of the police had taken up position at the main entrance, while numerous police patrols were posted in the vicinity to prevent any disturbances. All the students entering the building had to prove their identity and many were not admitted.

The lecture had been scheduled to commence at nine o'clock in the forenoon in the hope that relatively few students would be up and about at that early hour. Nevertheless hundreds of students crowded the main passage of the building long before nine, and there were continuous shouts of "get out" when Professor Jeze made his appearance, escorted by several attendants.

Only 15 students were present when Jeze entered the lecture room, but hardly had he begun his lecture when a large riotous crowd burst into the room and by throwing bombs, containing evil smelling liquids, compelled Professor Jeze to beat a hasty retreat.

Owing to the presence of the strong police detachments there were no further disturbances in the Latin quarter, but it remains to be seen whether the authorities will carry out the threat of closing the Faculty and suspending all the examinations.

ARMY'S SMASHING VICTORY

Chinese Lose Kotewall Cup Match By 7 Goals

ATTACK WITHOUT STING

Giving an exhibition of football that would not have done credit to the juniors, the Chinese lost to the Army in the Kotewall Cup match by the overwhelming score of seven goals to nil. To say the least, the Army were all over the Chinese. In all departments of the game the soldiers showed their superiority. As is usual with the Chinese, not only did they lose the match but they also lost that spirit of clean play that is usually associated with games. Tempers were frayed and play became rather dangerous. An outstanding offender in this respect was Wong Mee-shun.

The password seemed to be "play to the man and not the ball." This was very evident in the latter stages. Many of the spectators left the ground early in disgust, whether with the play or the players is hard to say.

ARMY'S FINE LEADER

The Army forward line was perfect. In Coakley they had a real leader. Their movements were the acme of precision. Smith and Sandford on the right flank and Riddings and Taubot on the left composed a forward line that was never at fault. The Army defence was such that Rowlands had little if anything to do. Campbell the newcomer to Hong Kong football played a very fine game, but this can be said of all the Army defenders. Ball and Evans the right and left halves adding Campbell and thus this trio offered no openings for the Chinese forwards. In fact very few of the Chinese attacks went far beyond the two Army backs, Swain and Steele.

It was an extremely well-balanced team and from the outset it was evident that the Chinese had met a team that could more than cope with their offensive.

The Chinese forwards definitely lacked cohesion. Fung King-cheung took over Lee Wai-tong's position at centre-forward and received not one bit of help from his fellow forwards. The line sadly missed the presence of that match winner, Lee Wai-tong. The attempts of the wing men were pitiful and weak. Tso Kwai-shing especially did not know what to do with the ball when he received it and invariably ended by sending it in a weak centre that their opponents had no difficulty in intercepting. The better half of the team was the defence and even here Lee Kam at left back seemed to be seeing two balls and often grazed the wrong one when attempting to clear.

THE GAME

The Army attacked from the start and the Chinese goal narrowly escaped when Pau Ka-ping just managed to block a shot from Smith. Play was transferred to the Army's area and Fung essayed a shot that was stopped by Rowlands.

The Army again attacked and Pau fell on the ball and being besieged by three forwards he elected to throw the ball behind his own line. From the resultant corner Campbell received the ball and netted the first goal for the Army. The Chinese retaliated and a fine movement culminated in Ip Pak-wah being blocked in front of the Army goal. The Chinese launched another attack and this time a cannon ball shot from Tso Kwai-shing just missed the goal. After half an hour's play Coakley broke through and cleaving the Chinese backs scored with a low drive to the corner.

There was no further scoring in the first half and the whistle blew with the score at 2-nil in the Army's favour.

ROWLANDS SAVES

From the beginning of the second half it was obvious that the Chinese were a beaten team and their play became desultory. The only time that the Chinese showed any form of standard was when in rapid succession Rowlands was called upon to save the ball. A beautiful first timer from the foot of Fung was very well saved.

Following an enterprising run by Riddings, Sandford receiving his centre made no mistake with the shot.

This was the turning point of the Chinese play. Thereafter it was a series of raids by the Army and the Chinese could do no more than endeavour to keep the score down. The fourth goal came from Smith who when Coakley had taken the ball down into the Chinese half Pau rushed out and collided with him. Smith took control of the ball and only had to shoot into an empty goal.

The Chinese made one more attack and the centre from Tso was taken by Fung whose shot beat Rowland and struck the corner of the upright and rebounded into play.

Time was now the only factor and the Army had merely to try to score as many as they could before the final whistle blew.

A bout of passing between Smith and Sandford resulted in Smith again scoring. The sixth goal was the best when Ball received from Smith and with his left foot sent in a drive that had Pau beaten all the way.

The final goal came from Sandford who neatly headed a centre from Smith past Pau.

KOWLOON'S FINE WIN

By defeating St. Joseph's by three goals to one on Saturday, Kowloon scored a well merited victory. G. White scored all three goals and thereby performed the "hat-trick." His combination with V. White and Honnibal was a feature that spelt downfall for the Saints. The losers were rather unlucky in that they were deprived of the services of Sinclair who had to retire in the second half with an injured ankle.

Kowloon took the lead 10 minutes from the start through G. White who beat Souza with a hard shot into the corner of the net. The Saints missed the equaliser when a penalty was awarded them but Costa shot wide of the goal.

A fine movement between Stewart Boyd, White and Honnibal resulted in White heading into the net to increase the lead. Fifteen minutes after the changeover, Gurbachan Singh reduced the Saints deficit with a snap goal during a mêlée. G. White recorded his "hat-trick" towards the end of the game when he met Honnibal's centre with a first-time shot to the left bottom corner of the goal.

INTERPORTERS HOME AGAIN

After a very successful trip in Shanghai, the Colony Interport footballers arrived in the Colony on board the R.M.S. Empress of Russia, yesterday, looking fit and in the very best of spirits.

Mr. G. S. Rodger, Hong Kong's custodian was accompanied by his wife, who had the distinction of witnessing a memorable game in more respects than one, since the Interport clash, commenced in rain, followed by sleet and finally snow.

There are no records available, but it can be safely assumed that this was the first occasion in which an interport game was contested in such unique conditions.

The footballers themselves, one and all were unanimous in their praise of the hospitality shown them by their friends and particularly the Shanghai Football Association, who spared no efforts to make their sojourn in the Northern port, a very memorable week.

ROYAL ULSTER'S FINE FORM

S. China 'B' Lucky To Draw

On Saturday the Royal Ulster Rifles were decidedly unlucky in not beating South China "B" in their first Division match. The result was a draw, both sides scoring once.

The Rules had the advantage over the Chinese and it was only their poor shooting that deprived them of victory. Campbell was outstanding; his tackling and headwork being excellent. The defence was more than a match for South China's attack. Pickering and Stevens giving fine displays which left Connor, in goal, little to do.

Leung-in-chian and Lee Kam were far from their usual selves and Pau Ka-ping became flustered and made the one error which resulted in the soldiers scoring.

Lam Tak-po was the best in the Chinese team and gave a showing that even excelled his usual game. George Tsang and Henry Young though not quite fast enough for the opponents' offensive did good work in a hard pressed defence.

Yeung Shui-yick scored with an unstoppable shot from 10 yards to place South China ahead after 12 minutes.

After 5 minutes play in the second half Hartigan sent over a high centre which dropped in the goalmouth. Pau jumped but missed the ball completely, and it rolled just over the line before Leung-in-chian could kick clear.

A glorious drive by Erwin looked a goal, but the ball grazed the wrong side of the upright, and the final thrill was a 20-yard free-kick taken by Campbell, Pau cleverly tipping a rasping shot over the bar.

Batsmen In Good Form

I.R.C. FORCE LUCKY DRAW

Tall individual scoring seemed to be the order of the day, when the local Clubs, clashed in their League fixtures on Saturday. No fewer than seven batsmen exceeded the 50 mark, a most creditable performance being that of E. L. Gosano who knocked 91 off a fairly strong Craigengower attack. G. A. Lee of the C.C.C. also had a bright knock and lifted his bat for a splendid 91.

Aided by a flawless 53 by Teddy Fincher, the K.C.C. collected 181 (for 6 wks.) and declared against the I.R.C., who were only able to get 93 for the loss of 8 wickets when stumps were drawn.

Having forced a lucky draw, the Indians will have consolidated their position in the League.

AUSTRALIANS IN FINE FORM

Two Centurions Combine

A fine partnership between O'Brien and Oldfield featured the three-day cricket match between the Australians and Grixalund West.

Battling first the home team scored 198, Helfrich contributing 64 and O'Reilly taking seven wickets for 88.

The Australians, who had scored 119 for 2 overnight, declared at 423 for 6, with O'Brien (113) and Oldfield (132), the Australian stumper, in a fine partnership. The latter batted for three hours, hitting a couple of sixes and sixteen boundaries. His previous century abroad was against Warwickshire, England, in 1921. Brown scored 78 nor out.

In their second effort Grixalund West had lost four wickets, for 78 at close of play.
The match will be continued on Monday-

M.C.C. MATCH DRAWN

Mitchell Innes In Great Form

Marton, Feb. 1.
The M.C.C. tourists in New Zealand failed to reap the benefit of their lead over Rangitikei in the two-day cricket match as rain interfered and the match was drawn.

The M.C.C. who had scored 248 in the first innings and dismissed their opponents for a paltry 47, declared their second innings closed at 188 for 4 towards which Mitchell Innes contributed 104 not out which he scored in an hour and a half, hitting a six and twelve boundaries.

Rangitikei, faced with the task of making 386 to win, could not continue their second innings, the score standing at 18 for 1 when rain interrupted further play-

EVEN GAME AT SOOKUNPOO

H. K. Ladies Win

A very evenly contested Brawn Cup hockey encounter was witnessed at Sookunpoo on Saturday when the Hong Kong Ladies surprisingly beat the Diocesan Girls' School by 4 goals to 2, after leading at the interval by 3 goals to 1. Mrs. P. M. Harrop (2), Mrs. Selby and Mrs. B. Goldman scored for the winners, while the D.G.S. netted their first during a goalmouth mêlée, and Miss S. Baskett, the winners' custodian, deflected a midfield hit into her own net when attempting to kick clear.

MEDICALS ROUTED BY POLICE

In a friendly game at the Valley on Saturday the Police Recreation Club beat the Royal Army Medical Corps by 8 wickets.

K.A.M.C.: 38 (Thompson 12, B. Baker 8 for 15).

Police: 101 for 4 (W. L. Clarke 41 not out), B. Baker 21, C. Pope 20).

RESUME OF INTERPORT HOCKEY

Shanghai Needs Stricter Refereeing

WHY HONG KONG WAS SUPERIOR

(By "ADREM")

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special Correspondent)

I was in Shanghai for about nine days, when I had an opportunity to see all the games in which the Hong Kong Ladies Interport eleven played. Below I give a resume of the games I witnessed. I have also included some remarks about the refereeing in Shanghai which I have no hesitation in saying, is very slack compared with the standard prevailing here. This, I feel is the real reason for the superiority shown by Hong Kong, in the three games they engaged in while in the Northern port.

THE GAMES

It is past history that the Hong Kong Ladies Hockey Interport team defeated the American Girls 6-0, the Shanghai Interport side 1-0, and the Rest of Shanghai 5-0. Thus in the three games played an aggregate of 12 goals were scored, at an average of 4 goals a match, with nothing against. Quite often one hears that it is superfluous to compare figures, and that statistics are all very well but do not give a true indication of any state of affairs.

However, in this case I feel sure I have done right by first drawing your attention to the results from a statistical point of view, for whatever else might be said, pro or con it must be admitted that figures do not lie.

Hong Kong were immensely superior.

A glance at the statistics will show that Hong Kong trounced the American Girls to the tune of 6-0. This was to be expected since Hong Kong's opponents were only an average side in Shanghai who very sparingly took the field in order to provide practice and exercise for their visitors. It was no feature in Hong Kong's cap for the game from the commencement was viewed as only a preliminary work out, but to those Shanghai hockey enthusiasts who turned out to see the visitors at work, they must have been impressed by the neat stick work, speed, and above all the splendid team work displayed.

It also surprised me to see how the team shaped together, as from their performance that day one got the impression that they had had innumerable practices together whereas as I well know, they had only played twice as a side before leaving Hong Kong.

HONG KONG'S TEAM WORK

The team work shown in that first game, coupled with their overwhelming victory, must have given the Hong Kong girls a great deal of confidence in their ability as a team, for once the Interport game commenced, I knew that they could hold their own against the pick of Shanghai. Prior to the match most people—particularly so the sports writers of the Shanghai press—were confident that Shanghai would win, since it was an established fact that the side sent down from Shanghai last year to battle in Hong Kong, was not by any means their strongest, yet they only went down 1-0, on a rain soaked ground. The team that represented Shanghai this year, was considered stronger than the one sent down to Hong Kong, hence the optimism.

UNFAMILIAR CONDITIONS

When I went to the Canidrome that morning for the Interport game, it was bitterly cold. The field was a quagmire of mud, slush and snow. The mere fact that the Interport football match was played on the very same ground only the day before, did not help to improve matters at all. The lines marking the field of play, area of the "dee", centre and 25 lines, etc., were discernable only because the snow had been removed so that a line could be drawn, while the enclosed stands both sides of the field were snow topped and the dog race track surrounding the ground was completely buried in snow. Hong Kongites can readily appreciate the almost impossible conditions in which the game was played. If it must be admitted that the existing conditions on the day of play, were totally unfamiliar to Hong Kong, in all fairness it must be said that it was equally so for Shanghai. I believe in the ordinary course of events when conditions such as existed at the Canidrome on the Interport day prevail at an ordinary league or friendly fixture, the match is automatically cancelled, but being an interport with only limited time at the disposal of all interested parties, the game had to be played since it was felt that if the dirty weather continued, delay would only make matters worse. Thus Hong Kong may be assumed met Shanghai on equal terms.

Reports of the "mud-battle" have already appeared in full, but in passing I must say that the game did not open up for a good fifteen minutes, resembling at times a loose pack scrummaging for the ball at rugby, the only difference being the use of the sticks for "spade work" as against the use of feet at rugby. Until the girls got used to the extreme conditions, the game was merely farcical. A lusty hit by a defender, when and at such times as she could do so—they were few and far between without five or six friends and opponents "scrummaging" around her—saw the ball travel at the most for only ten yards, before a "pack" would be around the ball to engage in what appeared from the stands to be only futile spade work. Yet in spite of all gradually both sides became accustomed to the muck, and then individual bursts saw the ball travel up the field, but half time arrived with the score sheet blank. Resumption of play saw Marie Smith (right wing) Hong Kong given better ground over, which to manoeuvre, since the field over that area was not so "slushy" as elsewhere. This improvement saw the Hong Kong right winger sending in hard accurate passes that, really travelled, and from one such pass, Phyllis Gittins connected to give Hong Kong victory. The spin of the coin (fate in other words) can be assumed to have assisted Hong Kong for when Shanghai were attacking over that section of the ground, their right winger caused a great deal of trouble also; from one of her centres E. Bloomfield (Shanghai) sent in a shot, but Mrs. Lunson (H.K.) saved.

HONG KONG VS. REST

The day after the Interport, Hong Kong engaged the Rest of Shanghai at Hongkew Park and won 5-0. It was hard to believe that only two days previously a game had been played on a snow covered ground, for the park ground was in splendid shape—even, dry-grassed covered—and more like King's Park locally. Shanghaianders were then given an opportunity of seeing Hong Kong in action, on a field such as they were accustomed to, and the team work displayed was brilliant throughout. Hong Kong penned Shanghai in their own half of the field and at one time forced as many as eight corners in succession.

SHANGHAI REFEREEING

I must make some remarks about the refereeing particularly with regard to this game. Apparently the official body there has agreed to be more lenient with their interpretation of some of the rules, for the use of both feet in stopping the ball, in nine cases out of ten are a decided "knock-on"—struck me to be most prevalent. "Turning" on the ball was allowed much rope, "knock-on" with the hands was conspicuously in evidence, while the Shanghai custodian shocked me by deliberately picking up the ball when hard pressed and throwing it over the line for a corner! On another occasion she fell on the ball and refused to move until she cleared by throwing the ball out. The latter of the two offences undoubtedly would have been a penalty bully in the goal mouth if played in Hong Kong, and I think that the reason for our superiority over the Northern port is because of the stricter refereeing in Hong Kong.

Shanghai, I can recall, complained of the refereeing in Hong Kong last year, and I think it was just as well that the actual Interport game on that occasion was played on the last day of their visit as by that time, they had become accustomed to the stricter code observed by the local referees.

In the Hong Kong v. the "Rest" game at Shanghai, the latter were continually committing offences punishable drastically here, whereas Hong Kong's lapses were few and far between. It was amply demonstrated during this game, that because of the refereeing Hong Kong were accustomed to locally, they put more reliance in their stick work, all of which stood them in good stead while in Shanghai.

Before ending I must draw your attention to the fact that Shanghai also defeated the "Rest" XI (before the actual arrival of the Hong Kong side) by a five goal margin, the score in fact being 7-2. It would seem thus to indicate that Hong Kong and Shanghai were evenly matched, since Hong Kong also obtained a 5 clear goal victory, over the same "Rest" XI.

Had the Interport game been played on a dry field, the game would I am sure have been full of excitement, with Hong Kong perhaps emerging the winners by 3, goals to two, or some such margin. Both teams at the Canidrome on the slush and muck of Interport day, played hard with Hong Kong having the best territorially. I think even on a dry pitch, Hong Kong would have won also, for the team work existing between the defence and the attack had to be seen first to be appreciated.

In the game at Hongkew Park it was seldom that Anne Fowler and Evelyn Gray were beaten, stopping as they did movement after movement on the half way line before anything was given a chance to develop or get under way. While Marion Bryson, pivot both G. White and Mrs. Bell as wing halves, fed the forwards with innumerable passes that sent them away time and again.

One thing is definite. Shanghai have a lot to think about. The Hong Kong Interport side confounded all critics by their displays and were definite value for all their wins.

If Shanghai would with the least possible delay, apply stricter ruling in refereeing, the standard of the game, once of course the transitory stages have been gone through, is bound to improve in the Northern port.

Still keener competition will result, and Hong Kong will then have to look to their laurels in order to retain the "White Cup" for their "hat trick" next year, when Shanghai will again be our visitors.

FANLING HUNT

Meet Cancelled Last Sunday

Mid-week Meets

The Fanling Hounds did not meet last Sunday at that was the day arranged for the Kwant race meeting which was also cancelled. A bye-day for fox-hunting was, however, held the day before, on Saturday, January 25. The Meet was at Lok Ma Chau Cross road at 8 a.m. In spite of the early hour about 30 followers turned out. These included Miss Allen, Miss Heather Gerrard, Mrs. Persee, Mrs. Wilson and Captain Waller. Two foxes were seen, but sport was poor as the scent was not lying at all. Hounds kept up in the hills all morning, but could not get a good run. The Hunt finally returned to Fanling about noon.

FAIR-SEIZED FIELD

Wednesday's Meet was held at Dill's Corner. There was a fair-seized field for a mid-week day, but smaller than usual. Among those present were Lieut.-Comdr. Alexander, Mr. Amps, Mrs. Anderson, Flight-Lieut. Anderson, Major and Mrs. Annesley, Colonel Bird, Miss Bird, Miss Carter, Mrs. Coltart, Mr. Davis, Major and Mrs. Dowling, Mrs. Field, Mr. Harris, Mrs. Joseph, Mrs. Keary, Commander Mackenzie, Mr. Macnamara, Mr. Marsden, Mrs. McAvoy, Major Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Paton, Miss Yvonne Shenton, Mrs. St. Clair Ford, Captain Waller, Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Winfield.

The Hunt was slow at first but brightened up towards the latter

ST. ANDREW'S FAIL AGAINST C.B.A.

Interporters Turn Out Again

H. K. LADIES SURPRISE WIN

A feature of the week-end hockey was the keen interest shown in the Caer Clark Cup fixed between the C.B.A. and the St. Andrew's Ladies. The game took place on the Police training ground and ended in a 3 goal to 1 victory for the C.B.A.

Miss M. Smith, (C.B.A.) and Miss P. Gittins (St. A.) were back again on the local field after their strenuous visit to Shanghai; and the pair soon settled down to some pretty hockey.

The "Y" Ladies had little difficulty in defeating the Recreio Ladies, and completed their league fixtures with 11 points.

In the Brawn Cup Competition the C.B. Schoolgirls defeated the Association by 7 goals to nil, after a very one-sided game.

The only upset was the surprising defeat of the D.G.S. by the H.K. Ladies. The game was evenly contested from start to finish and it was only the efforts of the H.K. Ladies' defence that prevented the D.G.S. forwards from netting.

C.B.A. vs. ST. ANDREWS

The Caer Clark Cup hockey fixture between the C.B.A. and the St. Andrew's Ladies which was played on Saturday on the Police Training School ground ended in a win for the former by the score of 3 goals to 1.

Although the C.B.A. had a 2-nil lead in the first half it was not because the C.B.A. had all the play. The reason for the Saints' defeat was the poor showing of the forwards in front of goal.

For the winners Miss Smith and Miss E. Rousseau combined very well on the right wing and it was through their efforts that Mrs. White was able to score her two goals.

Mrs. Rose kept goal in fine style and saved many a difficult shot, while Miss P. Gittins played a hard-working game, scoring the Saints' only goal.

Just before the final whistle Miss Smith scored for the C.B.A.

St. Andrew's:—Mrs. Rose; Miss G. White and Miss R. Stephenson; Miss E. Banker, Miss J. Wong and Miss M. Churn; Mrs. N. Lee, Miss F. Wong, Miss P. Gittins, Miss J. Booker and Miss I. Gittins.

C.B.A. Ladies:—Miss F. Best; Miss J. Walker and Miss P. Wolley; Miss P. Everest, Miss M. Bryson, Miss I. Woolley, Miss R. Blackmore, Miss M. Smith, Mrs. M. White, Miss D. Hunt and Miss E. Rousseau.

"Y" LADIES FINE WIN

The "Y" Ladies easily defeated the Recreio Ladies on Saturday when they met on the Y.M.C.A. ground. Though the score was three goals to nil, it was through the fine defence of the Recreio Ladies that kept the score from being higher.

LOW SCORING MATCH AT KING'S PARK

The friendly cricket match between the Royal Navy and the Recreio on the former's ground yesterday ended in a draw. Navy: 118 for 6 dec. (Lt. Davis 47; E. R. A. Mainwaring 22; A. M. Pratt 4 for 37). Recreio: 108 for (J. W. Barnes 30; L. G. Gosano 20; A. B. Dale 4 for 14).

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

London, Jan. 31.

The official list of entries for this year's Davis Cup Tournament was published here on Friday, and reveals the effects of the sanctions in the sphere of sports, since Italy's entry is missing for the first time since the inauguration of the Tournament.

The 20 countries which will compete in the European Zone include two non-European countries, namely China and Argentina. The other 18 are: Austria, Belgium, England, France, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Spain, Greece, Monaco, Hungary, Eglund, Rumania, Yugoslavia, The Netherlands and Iceland.
